FROM THE EDITOR

The event of the week is of course Danny Moulis making his 100th appearance for Canberra City. Danny has played in 86 PSL games, 11 Philips Cup and 3 Prime Minister's Cup ties. During this time he has also scored 5 goals from the fullback position. Danny is not the first player to make 100 appearances for a PSL club although he is in fact in the first half dozen. What is so amazing is his age. 20 years and 13 days old and already one of Australia's most seasoned players. All records must be broken eventually but it will be a long time, and in a much larger league before a 20 year old player runs up 100 top class games in Australia's premier competition.

Danny came straight from the local under 16 competition to PSL football and had never played against anyone other than schoolboys when he made his debut. In between his PSL appearances, Danny also managed to fit in 14 games for Australia Under 19s and three full international appearances in the Noumea tournament earlier this year.

A law student at ANU, Danny still enjoys his football as much as ever, and has no immediate thoughts of an early retirement. To the club, which started off with a youth policy and stuck to it regardless of criticism (8 of today's team is less than 24 years old) goes the satisfaction of seeing that policy start to pay dividends. Youth, experience and club spirit combined is an asset that cannot be bought.

JUNIOR MEMBERSHIP NEWS

The King Kong Movie afternoon at the Club Premises last Sunday was a big success. After the initial problem with the projector I'm sure all the 73 children and adults really enjoyed what was a very realistic looking Kongand his adventures.

The last movie for the year will be the Australian Classic 'Picnic at Hanging Rock' which should fill the club on November 23.

Before that, on Sunday October 5 we have a barbecue, fun and games afternoon at the Yarralumla Woolshed. It is for the whole family and starts around midday. Bring your own barbe and kids or join with someone else for a fun afternoon — October 5th. Make a note of it now.

SOME THOUGHTS AFTER 100 GAMES

After 100 games and 4 years, I still clearly remember my first league game (we lost 3-1 to West Adelaide and Brian Stoddart was sent off). Since then, my association with Canberra City has given me the opportunity to travel to the Pacific Islands and North and South America with Australian representative teams and youth coaching assignments. I also remember the not so happy incidents of the past four years; the attitude displayed towards Steven Hogg, Mike Milovanovic and myself by some team-'mates' when competing for team spots against 16 and 17 year olds; being knocked out of the Phillip Cup final by Adelaide City, twice; and, not being permitted to go to Italy with the PSL selected last December. On balance, however, the pride and enjoyment I have felt during my City career have far outweighed the few low points.

In regard to the present and the future, I think it would be wrong to completely concentrate the club's resources on the PSL team. The club must not forget the youth of Canberra. Talented local youngsters should be provided with the best in coaching so that they can improve, and get the incentive to attain positions in the PSL squad.

Imagine the results of an injection of $20,000 into Canberra Junior Soccer as against spending it on one overseas player looking for a holiday. Having come from Canberra junior ranks, I am obviously biased, but I am sure such a bias is warranted.

Finally, I must note those people who deserve more than thanks, both from myself and the club. Amongst them are Jimmy Hayes, David Dillon, John Warren, Charles Perkins, Vic Fernandez, and, of course, my father, Theo Moulis.

Thank you too, to the backbone of any soccer club, the supporters, whose faith has had to be immeasurably stronger for a club that is young and fighting to find form.

THE COACH COMMENTS

Football always has its ups and downs and at present I am finding that life as a coach at times is certainly not very rewarding. The last two games against Heidelberg have definitely brought me down to earth. In both matches we had most of the play but failed to take our chances. Heidelberg are not one of the PSL's most exciting teams, but they are one of the most professional. Their defence is very tight and they break away quickly from midfield to support strikers Cole and Paton.

As for Canberra City, we have three aims for the rest of the season. They are, to win a record number of home games; to finish in the top seven and to score 35 goals. A win today is essential for our first two aims and to regain our confidence for the remaining games this season.

Today on Danny Moulis' 100th game for the club, I would like to congratulate him on his great service over the past four seasons. Keni Kawaleva and I are the only players left with the club who also played in Danny's first senior game. It was a friendly against Marconi at Narrabundah. Danny played right back against another gangling youngster called Peter Shame and didn't let him have a kick. All the best for the future Danny, and for today, how about a repeat of your game in Brisbane earlier this year.

I would like to welcome South Melbourne to Canberra and let's hope the game is as entertaining as last year when we won 3-2 with the winning goal coming from Donald MacLaren. This game also produced one of the best goals I have seen at Bruce when Alun Evans volleyed a tremendous shot into our net.

South Melbourne's form has improved dramatically this season, moving from wooden spooners to championship contenders.

Finally, I would like to welcome the staff from Hartley House and all the wonderful kids whom we visited this week. I hope you all enjoy the game and let's hope City can give you a win this year, Tony Brennan please note (he scored the last minute winner in the corresponding game last year. Unfortunately he was playing for Brisbane Lions at the time).

SOUTH MELBOURNE

Circumstances were vastly different last year when South Melbourne made their annual visit to Bruce Stadium. Both teams were well down the League and the game could only be viewed as a relegation battle. At the end of the season the two clubs finished in 12th and 14th positions, with South Melbourne having to seek re-election to the League. It is a vastly different story this year with the visitors chasing top four honours and seeking points for an entirely different reason.

The team is basically the same as last year with the inclusion of striker Branco Buljevic who has been having a great season with his new club.
new club.

There is such a line-up of talent in the South Melbourne squad that it is difficult to know where to begin. Eight of the squad have played for the Victorian State team, three for Australa and another five have made appearances for the Australian youth team. On top of that, there are two former Wolverhampton Wanderers players in Bert Lutton and Alun Evans who have represented Ireland and England Under 23s respectively. Throw in former Aberdeen player George Campbell who is one of the most dangerous wingers in the PSL and you start to see why South Melbourne are a top side. Their history is studded with success at the State League level. In the ten years before joining the PSL South Melbourne won so many titles it is easier to just tell you they won no major trophy in 1968. 1971 and 1973.

For some reason, Canberra City always find good form against South Melbourne and only once, back in 1978 was there a clear difference in the scores between the sides. The teams share one little corner of history between them in that our 1977 match at Manuka Oval was rained off. This is the only League game the weather has ever won in Canberra.

Today we can expect another close, hard-fought game. Regardless of the result, there is one comparison City fans can make. Last year with a new squad, South Melbourne had no success; this year with almost the same squad they are a title contender. It could be that Canberra City is just one year behind in development.

Hartley House

It is with great pleasure we welcome the children from Hartley House. Last year we were not able to break a record for them, although we certainly got fairly close. This year, The Canberra Times, CTC Channel 7 and Radio Station 2CA have combined with Canberra City in a fund raising drive for this worthy cause. Canberra City will donate $1000 to the Society and of course all takings over and above a record attendance figure. This year an added attraction will be the Presidents XI v Media XI curtain raiser and some generous sponsors should help make this more than just another fun hour.

The present aim of the ACT Society for Physical Handicapped Children Inc is the building of a new hostel in Lyneham, as well as meeting the day-to-day costs of running the present hostel. One of the societies better known fund raising activities is the Annual Queen of Canberra Quest. In the Hartley Street School in Turner, there are presently about 12 children living permanently and about another 100 children around the ACT benefit from the services of the school. If you would care to make a contribution, please send it to ACT Society for Physically Handicapped Children Inc, PO Box 355, Woden 2606.

We may not be able to break an attendance record for the kids today but one record we can break for them is the number of home wins in a season. A win today will do it, and nobody would enjoy it more than the children from Hartley House.

CAPTAIN'S CORNER

Earlier this month one of our most popular players turned 21, so what better time to meet Donald MacLaren or Badger as he is better known. A second good reason for introducing Donald this week is that he scored the winning goal against South Melbourne last year and a reminder at this time might be helpful.

Don was talked into giving Australia a try by an old Heart of Midlothain (Scottish Premier Division) colleague in Jim Cant. Not that Badger is new to travel, he spent a season in the U.S.A. with New York Eagles (now N.Y. United) but doesn't rate the experience very highly. Arriving in mid-season without much advance warning to the press, Donald was dubbed the mystery man but didn't take long to become known to the Bruce Stadium regulars. He can play right back or midfield but is best known in Canberra as a winger. A former Scottish Schoolboy and Youth internationalist, Don is impressed with Canberra, especially the people, but finds it a little quiet after dark. The PSL is getting a better League all the time according to Donald and what is required to do well now is consistency. Canberra City has skill and talent but still lacks consistency. If that can be developed says Badger, we are on our way up. The support is good, especially compared with most of the other clubs but can be a bit fickle when things are not going well. Don however is the first to admit that following an inconsistent team can be a frustrating experience and can strain the best of supporters. Best opposition player he has run into in Australia is Kenny Boden of Sydney City and top game was the 1-1 draw with Marconi last year (Ian Callaghan's last game). The game was played under floodlights in front of a big crowd and in Don's opinion had more atmosphere and excitement than any other PSL game, although the 2-0 over Sydney City earlier this year runs a close second. Don has a two year contract with the club that finishes at the end of next year when he hopes to take a trip back to Scotland for a while. Until then, his aim is to help Canberra City bring a trophy or two back to the clubhouse.

It is hoped that patrons can work out the above sequence of events. If you can, could you please explain it to me.

Popular local referee Ken Allen had to put up with a lot of less-than-complementary comments in the clubhouse after the Newcastle game. It seems that many spectators thought Ken had overlooked at least one penalty. General opinion among players and officials is that there was no penalty. Ken did however find one the next week and it was the penalty that put Sydney City out of the Philips Cup. Our man on the spot says it was a good decision and even the Sydney City players could hardly raise a protest. Ken has been handling some big games this year, notably the record-breaking Marconi v Heidelberg match in Sydney and it may not be too long before he gets back to international level games again.

SUPPORTERS CLUB NOTES

Bookings are now open for the bus trip to Blacktown City on Sunday 14 September. This will be our first ever visit to the Gabbie ground and a lot of fans are keen to have a look at the new team's set up. Prices are as before, $12 for members and $8 for members children. Non members $15 and $10 respectively. This time however, full payment has to be made when booking, rather than the old system of a deposit, with the balance paid on the bus. The old method nearly put the club's phone system out of order so we are trying this method for the last trip of the year. Bookings can be made at the club stall.

After game drinks is now closed for the remainder of the season as the areas used have been taken over by the DCT for the use of the indoor sports stadium. As a consolation, club Secretary/Manager Ray Jack has announced a happy hour for tonight between the hours of 5.30 pm and 6.30 pm in the clubhouse. All beer and spirit prices will be slashed to the midweek happy hour level for this period. This is almost half the normal trading price so take advantage of Ray's temporary insanity and get into the club tonigt right after the game.
